The Oncologist* & the Society for Translational Oncology (STO) Form Alliance

Dear Colleagues and Friends:

The Oncologist, a 14-year-old, peer-reviewed journal devoted to physicians entrusted with the care of cancer patients, is proud to have formed an alliance with the Society for Translational Oncology (STO). This beneficial alliance will extend the global impact of both organizations.

- Effective July 20, 2009, the Journal's readers must pay a fee to access full content. ($145 per year for online only access or $245 for both online and print. CME courses will be $15 each.)
- Members of STO will receive unlimited access to The Oncologist Online as one of their member benefits. (STO Charter Membership is $125 per year and includes option to earn 20 CME credits at no additional charge.)

Apply for Charter Membership in STO today to ensure that your free access to The Oncologist Online remains uninterrupted.

Best Regards,
